TISOH Faculty Members Earn Certified Hospitality Educator Credential

LAS VEGAS – TISOH announced today that 10 faculty and staff members from the school were awarded their Certified Hospitality Educator (CHE) credentials from the American Hotel & Lodging Educational Institute.

TISOH is one of few schools that require all faculty members to carry the Certified Hospitality Educator credential. Director of Academic Affairs Dr. Donnell G. Bayot said “Our faculty are all highly accomplished industry professionals. The CHE credential provides them with the ability to teach and to share their knowledge in an effective and meaningful manner.”

The following individuals from the school received their CHE credentials: Clifford Anderson II CHC, CHE, CGSP; Cecilia Darr CHE; Douglas Ward CHC, CHE; Anthony Lai CHE, CGSP; Jeffrey S. Peterson SPHR, CHE; Sean McCray CHE, CGSP; Patrick Peel CHE; Sukeun Cho CHE, Lenny Talarico CSEP, CHE; Anna C. Hersel CHE.

Widely recognized as the preeminent leader in hospitality certification, the American Hotel & Lodging Educational Institute (AHLEI) strongly supports and encourages the certification of hospitality professionals in all facets of the industry. The Certified Hospitality Educator (CHE®) program is the only professional development opportunity designed for postsecondary hospitality educators around the world. The program helps hospitality educators strengthen student’s critical thinking and motivation to learn.
