TISOH Introduces the Pineapple Lounge

LAS VEGAS – TISOH announced today the opening of the Pineapple Lounge at its campus in Las Vegas. Designed exclusively for students, this lounge will be open during school hours as a space to unwind and relax.

The TISOH campus was designed with mixed use spaces with the needs of continuing education students in mind. Modern classrooms center around the Square, a space to meet up with fellow learners and get ready for class. The Design Lab in the Administration Building, that has been featured in special event magazines, will soon enter its fourth iteration. The new Pineapple Lounge provides multiple seating options with a video gaming console, books, and periodicals to review, and a central location to find out about all the available student services.

The Pineapple Lounge carries the same theme as the rest of the campus with an orange and grey scheme and bright and airy spaces to excite the mind. The space evokes the friendly and familiar atmosphere of warm hospitality.

“TISOH has always been student-centric. The Pineapple Lounge provides another space for the community to gather and build friendships in” said Timothy Lam, Executive Director of TISOH.
